teacher was Mr A J C Hall. The school opened with a roll of fourteen. In 1899, the school committee renewed an application for a formal school site following the donation of two acres of land by Frederick Adamson. Tenders for the erection of a school building were invited in 1900. The building was completed in 1901 by C. Bishop of Paeroa. It comprised of a single room and porch. A new classroom and extension to the old room were completed at the end of 1921 by C.C. Porter. Two further classrooms were added in 1966 and a further addition was completed in 1968.
